SCORING:

Give yourself points for each answer as follows:

A - 4 points

B - 3 points

C - 2 points

D - 1 point

If your score is 32-40 you are Samantha Jones. You know what you want from men and you know how to get it. Once you've gotten it, you are usually ready to move on. It will take a very special man indeed to ever see your vulnerable, sweet side. And even once he's seen it, you will still deny it exists.

If your score is 23-31 you are Carrie Bradshaw. You love being in love, but it isn't always the best thing for you. You aren't much better with money than with men, but on both counts you keep trying. You're not overly sentimental, but there is a part of you that does believe in all that stuff about "the One" and it gets you into trouble. You alternately long for and are terrified by marriage and babies (probably because of all that wondering about "the One" business).

If your score is 14-22 you are Charlotte York. You are the hopeless romantic. You also want everything neat and pretty and sanitized for your protection. You want everything every woman was ever promised in a 50's magazine - romance, love, marriage, children and a high rise apartment on the Upper East Side - and you'll even change your religion to get it.

If your score is 1-13 you are Miranda Hobbes. You do not believe in romance or Valentine's Day or anything schmaltzy. You take a lot of convincing, but once you're sold on an idea, you don't do it halfway. Men are okay and having one around is nice sometimes, but you certainly don't need one. You just want a civilized, compatible relationship with a man you get along with, who is good in bed, without all the extra frills.
